

TECHNICAL STAGE MANAGER

Job Description

The Technical Stage Manager will work closely with the Production Manager to ensure the creative and technical teams are supported. They will line manage the lighting, sound and video engineers, and work with the creative and technical teams to ensure creative concepts are realised in the space. Responsibilities will include:

- Gaining a strong understanding of the show and technical plans and systems
- Assisting to plan the build and derig schedules
- Supporting the technical team during build, to ensure systems are built reliably and are able to cover the creative requirements of the show
- Running pre-show checks and performing maintenance where required to ensure reliable show performance
- Assisting with any technical-based physical show cues during the performance as required
- Support and mentor production crew, considering development opportunities within the workload
- Working with the Production Manager to ensure health and safety standards are met

Person Specification

This role would suit those with production/ technical management or technician skill sets, for someone who is looking to work across technical departments to deliver high production values:

- Experienced across technical production departments
- Strong electrical and production system knowledge
- Experience building production systems in non-traditional spaces
- Exceptional problem solving abilities
- Experience managing teams
- Ability to manage and prioritise multiple workflows efficiently
- Collaborative team member